Broadcast by Nehru Widens Gulf in U. N.

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 24 (AP)—A briefing broadcast by Prime Minister Nehru of India widened today the gulf between the nations that want to welcome red China into the U.N. and those who want to brand her as an aggressor in Korea.

An Indian spokesman here said red China has sent another message to India on U.N. efforts to obtain a cease-fire in Korea. He said the message, reported to have been relayed by Nehru, was "reassuring," but he would not disclose the contents now. Nehru, highly critical of U. S. policy in the far east, called for a conference of major powers and insisted the Chinese communists want to negotiate a peace.

India, like Britain, has recognized Peiping. The United States has refused to do so and opposes plans to seat the communist Chinese in the United Nations, one of the five veto holding powers, in the place of Chiang Kai-shek's regime.

The United States, backed by the vote of both houses of congress, also wants the U. N. to declare Peiping an aggressor, and to consider punitive measures against it. France announced Jan. 18 she, too, would vote to condemn red China as an aggressor.

Nehru's broadcast called for a conference of major powers "to discuss world problems, instead of talking at each other across thousands of miles."

"It is clear that enough has been said on both sides for negotiation in a conference to be the next fruitful step," Nehru said.

The Indian leader contended the American proposal to name communist China an aggressor in Korea, "cannot lead to peace."

Innocent Plea Over Perjury Made by Pair

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Kloppenburg entered pleas of innocent Wednesday morning in district court. They are charged with perjury in connection with their testimony at district court trial of a civil suit last summer. On the basis of their pleas, date of a jury trial will be set later.

District Judge Hugh A. Baker overruled five point demurrers presented in each case by their attorneys, Ray Agee and Arthur Babbel. In what court officials termed a somewhat unusual procedure, Agee declined to offer oral arguments in support of the demurrers.

In other action, Judge Baker sentenced five persons who had pleaded guilty earlier this week with the opening of the January term of court and reading of the calendar of criminal cases.

Frank William Weber was sentenced to serve not more than five years in the state penitentiary for drawing a $5 check without funds in the bank. His sentence was committed to 60 days in the county jail from the time of his arrest.

Vernon A. Stevenson was sentenced to serve not more than 14 years in the state penitentiary for drawing a $53.80 check while an escapee from a California penal institution. The exact time will be determined by the state board of corrections.

O. S. Romjue, Jerome, was sen- tenced to serve not more than five years for drawing a $5 check without funds in the bank. The sentence was suspended and he was placed on 2 years probation to the state board of corrections with statinence from

Prisoner's Dart For Freedom in Rupert Misses

RUPERT, Jan. 24—Bradley Bates, who was arrested in Burley Saturday on a charge of writing and passing four checks, had a few moments of freedom Tuesday afternoon when he escaped from sheriff's men in Rupert.

Bates was charged with passing the worthless checks in Heyburn and Paul. He was turned over to Minidoka county officials Saturday and placed in the county jail at Rupert. Tuesday afternoon deputies took him to Paul so he could get his clothing from a motel there.

When they returned to Rupert around 4 p. m. Bates darted from the courthouse as he and the deputies were standing in the hall. Although pursued immediately it was some time before he was found hiding in a truck which was parked behind a garage.

Rescue Work Is Pressed in Alpine Slides

VIENNA, Jan. 24 (AP)—Aviators dipping perilously into misty valleys and thousands of men on skis and foot carried out rescue missions in avalanche-stricken Alpine Europe today.

In Austria, Switzerland and Italy it was established that 168 persons have been killed by masses of snow and boulders sliding down mountain sides.

The figure certainly will be higher, said officials directing rescue efforts, as reports come in from hundreds of tiny communities isolated by the worst avalanches of the century.

The danger was still great in Austria, where bright sunshine warned the great masses of snow clinging uncertainly to the slopes. In Switzerland and Italy the worst seemed to be over as dropping temperatures hardened the snow. Trains and buses started crawling into most Swiss mountain communities. Military fliers, hovering at great personal risk over inaccessible towns and farms, dropped supplies and surveyed the situation.

While the danger eased in Switzerland, the avalanches still were roaring down in the Austrian Tyrol.

Fast action by police and mountain guards who spread warnings and helped persons in danger zones to move, undoubtedly saved many lives.

But many thousands of Austrians were trapped in several hundred villages, unable to leave their communities. Most of them were in no danger because they had moved to safe spots. Accustomed to dealing with deep snow, most of the villages had food to withstand the siege imposed by the avalanches.

Idaho Council Opposes State Patrolmen Cut

BOISE, Jan. 24 (AP)—Approving several resolutions concerned with highway safety, the Idaho chapter of the National Safety council has added its seventh annual convention.

One of the resolutions opposed the proposed reduction in the state police force to 25. The reduction was suggested by Gov. Len Jordan to the Idaho legislature.

The chapter also called for a uniform Idaho drivers' license and examination law, and the inclusion of driver training classes in high schools.

Also approved by mining officials who are members of the chapter was a proposed mining industry code. Ned Major provisions call for state inspection of mine safety devices, the reporting of dangerous mine conditions and maintenance of mine rescue equipment and training of crews to operate the gear.

C. T. Williams, Kellogg, was re-elected president. Other officers re-elected were Eldon Beck, Boise, vice president; E. F. McGuire, Boise, secretary; T. M. Costello, Boise, treasurer; Earl W. Murphy, Boise, chairman of the executive committee; John Aram, Boise, chairman of the board of directors; Mrs. Norma McKnight, Boise, executive secretary.

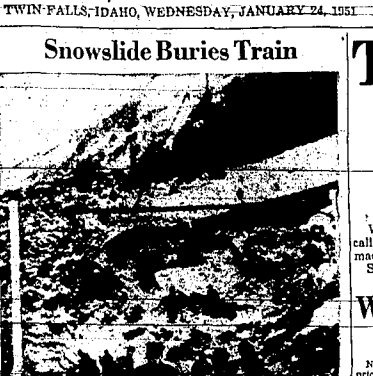

New directors elected were William McNulty, Steve Collins, Boise, and H. Earl Wheeler, Pocatello.

Acheson Asserts Red Notes False

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today Russia's week-end notes to Britain and France on German rearmament were filled with completely false statements and old allegations.

At a news conference, he rejected Russia's accusations and placed the blame for current international tension squarely on the Soviet union.

Snowslide Buries Train

Rescuers work to free train blocked in tunnel near Chur, Switzerland, by snow avalanche. Some 25 men and 35 women and children were trapped for 24 hours in this side before they were freed. Thundering snow avalanches in the European Alps killed many persons in four countries. Hundreds of others were reported missing. (NEA radiotelephoto)

Two Men in Hailey Jailed For Assault

HAILEY, Jan. 24 — Two Hailey men are in the Blaine county jail on charges of assault with deadly weapons with intent to do bodily harm. Both were arraigned Wednesday morning before Probate Judge John M. Wright and each pleaded innocent. Preliminary hearing for Fred Bodenhofer was set for Jan. 31 and the hearing for Dewey Coleman was set for Feb. 1.

The two men were arrested Tuesday night. The complaint against Bodenhofer was signed by Dave Inchausti, owner of the Gem bar, while the complaint against Coleman was signed by Fred Grace, Hailey marshal.

Bodenhofer and Colemen entered the bar late Tuesday and ordered drinks from Inchausti, who was acting as bartender, in the bar owner's opinion Bodenhofer already had enough to drink and further service was denied. The men left the bar only to return shortly. Bodenhofer was armed with a .22 caliber rifle which he used to threaten the bar owner.

Bodenhofer was disarmed and the two men were taken to jail. While Grace was unlocking a cell Deputy Sheriff W. D. Hardesty saw Coleman reach inside his shirt and draw a butcher knife. As he moved towards Grace's exposed back, Hardesty stepped in and disarmed the man.

Bail for the two was set at $2,000 each. Since it was not furnished as the hearing Wednesday morning the men were remanded to the custody of the sheriff and placed in jail.

18-Year-Old Call Delay May Start Husband Order

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—Assistant Defense Secretary Anna *M. Rosenberg said today that un*less congress approves an 18-year-old draft it will be necessary "very soon" to cancel deferments of husbands and fathers.

Mrs. Rosenberg said the draft-exempt status of World war II veterans also will be endangered if the international situation gets worse. Only single non-veterans, 18 through 25, now are being drafted.

In a statement prepared for the house armed services committee, Mrs. Rosenberg warned also that occupation deferments now granted to essential men in industry, agriculture, and science will have to be curtailed if the 18-year-olds are not made available.

Mrs. Rosenberg painted a dark picture of the shrinking pool of available manpower in the age group now subject to draft.

Buck Deer, Bobcat Battle to Draw in Fight for Survival; Both Are Killed

By ROBERTA McKERCHER

HAILEY, Jan. 24 — Nature, the raw, brutal kind, came out into the open along the highway to Ketchum shortly before noon Tuesday.

It was well witnessed, too, this battle between a three-point buck and a 40-pound bobcat. Motorists along the highway pulled up to watch the fight and to see the bleeding, panting deer on to greater effort.

But his noble struggle availed him nothing. In the end both fell victims of brutality and inhumanity, as the case might be.

At first motorists thought the deer simply was floundering in the deep snow. Suddenly, though, he tossed his head and witnesses could see the bobcat gnawing and clawing at the deer's throat.

Don't think too unkindly of the cat. He was obeying one of the most simple laws of nature—the battle for existence. The deer, to him, was no a graceful, beautifully colored nymph of the woods. It was a meal. And, with the snow lying deep in the woods and spring a long way away, a belly well stuffed with venison would help to keep him warm and alive through the long, cold days and nights yet to come.

Man, though, thought differently. To him, the battle was unequal. Man, in the form of L. A. Stevens, Hailey, and armed with a .22 caliber rifle belonging to Pete Batis, Ketchum, climbed the fence and cautiously approached the two wild things battling for existance.

The buck, meanwhile, was struggling towards a stock fence. Perhaps it was instinct. Or maybe it was rudimentary thought. What- ever it was the stock fence appeared to be an ally to the deer. Reaching it, the buck brushed the snarling cat from his neck and floundered over the fence to the highway.

Growling and spitting deer hair from his mouth, the cat decided the venison wasn't taste all the better since he was being forced to fight for it. He, too, leaped the fence and tackled the deer again, unconscious that death for him was lurking only 20 feet away.

The "ping" of the small caliber rifle was not loud. But the aim was true. A small, black hole appeared between the cat's eyes. Involuntarily the cat's head jerked up as though in surprise. Then, slowly and as though reluctantly, it loosened its hold and fell like a sack into the deep snow.

The deer, relieved of the scratching claws and sharp teeth but obvious of its sudden safety, staggered through the snow, leaving a trail behind. It floundered across another fence and headed for Wood river.

Once again man, this time in the guise of Glen Brado and Bill Lucas, forest service employes, took a hand in nature's drama. Deciding that the deer would die of its injuries—one leg appeared broken and the buck was bleeding from its throat—that the successful battler.

With a sigh, he trampled in the snow as though his efforts had been too great for him and that, in a moment, he would rise again and struggle into the woods. But the only movement about him was the slow, crawling red color in the snow.

Truman Preparing Plan to Strengthen Controls on Prices

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—Representative Spence, D., Ky., said after a White House call today that President Truman is preparing legislation to strengthen the whole price machinery and "provide effective control of food prices."

Spence, chairman of the house banking committee, told reporters the bill to bolster existing laws for "price and rent control" will be sent to congress shortly.

Spence's report coincided with word from stabilization officials that a price freeze may be expected to move, possibly followed by wage ceilings on Friday.

Proposals Given Chief

Price Director Michael DiSalle told the joint senate-house economic committee he has given Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston recommendations for general price controls. He did not make public his proposals.

DiSalle also said "we are shooting for the opening of 55 offices on Monday—13 regional offices and 42 district offices." He said there will be 81 least one office in every state. The 13 regional offices had been announced earlier but not the others.

Rollback Not Discussed

Spence said the President had not discussed a price rollback, but the President thought the machinery contemplated under the proposed legislation would make rollbacks workable.

Officials are talking of rolling back prices to Jan. 2 levels.

Spence said a provision would be made for "effective control of food prices."

Parity May Stand

He said the President did not indicate he would seek any change in the parity restriction on food price ceilings.

The imminence of price control action was underlined by DiSalle at the economic committee hearing in reply to a request from Senator Maybank, D., S.C., chairman.

When Maybank asked that DiSalle make a statement for the benefit of the press and newsreel and television cameras which had been set up for the occasion, the price chief replied:

"I would rather they would wait a couple of days and we probably will have something they'd like to hear.

"We have recommendations be-

Wholesale Food Prices Hit Within 10 Cents of Record

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (U.P.)—Higher prices for 14 foods this week sent the Dun and Bradstreet wholesale food price index soaring 4 cents to $7.03, the highest level in more than 28 months.

The index for the week ended Jan. 23 marked an increase of 22.5 per cent above a year ago when it was $5.78. The index now stands at the highest point since it reached $7.18 on Aug. 10, 1948.

The new index was only 29 cents below the all-time high of $7.32, hit July 13, 1948, but 46 cents above the 1949 high of $6.12, reached Jan. 4.

The week's rise marks the sixth consecutive week the index has advanced and the 18th consecutive week it has either risen or held unchanged.

The 14 commodities advancing this week were flour, wheat, rye, oats, beef, hams, bellies, sugar, coffee, tea, cocoa, eggs, steers and lambs. The five declines included barley, lard, butter, cottonseed oil and hogs.

Prices of corn, cheese, milk, bacon, peas, potatoes, PORK, HIDES, potatoes, raisins, currants and prunes held unchanged.

Fertile Land Is Ruined by Volcanic Ash

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 24 (AP)—Volcanic ash hardened today over a New Guinea wasteland—the once fertile jungle of thousands who may have died in week-end eruptions of 6,000-foot-high Mt. Lamington.

The tragic extent of destruction is all that remains," said one newspaper correspondent who flew over the area in which Australian officials said 1,000 persons—including 34 Europeans—were believed to have perished.

"The entire area is feet deep in pumice ash, which is gradually hardening and coating everything with a rock-like surface," said a report to the Sydney Sun. It added:

"Once a fertile district, it may become a rocky desert."

Meager medical supplies and air transport facilities were mobilized to meet the pressing need of burned and maimed Papuans who staggered —shredded flesh hanging from their bodies—into a field hospital established at the base of the "extinct" volcano.

In the memory of white man Lamington had been silent. Sunday —after three days of mild rumblings—it blew away its north side and rained an atom-bomb like cloud of searing ash over the surrounding area.

All aircraft in New Guinea were taking part in a shuttle service between the area and the emergency hospital at Popendetta, 11 miles northeast of Lamington.

General Did Not Urge 'Immediate' China A-Bombing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, air force chief of staff, says he is sure Maj.-Gen. Orvil A. Anderson, USAF, until recently in charge of bombing in Korea, did not urge the "immediate use of atom bomb on communist China."

Nevertheless, Vandenberg reminded O'Donnell in a friendly letter made public by the air force that Anderson "was care" when making public statements.

Meantime, the army said an order issued shortly after O'Donnell left a news conference was intended to encourage officers to do more talking. Rep. Van Zandt, R., Pa., told the house yesterday a "gag" order went out after O'Donnell spoke binding officers to support administration policies in any public comments on military and foreign matters.

O'Donnell spoke to newsmen last week as Maxwell Air Force officer on his return from his post as chief of the far-east bomber command to head the 16th air force. His remarks created a flurry of pro and con comment in congress.

Idaho Tax Loss In Building Dam Cited by Jordan

BOISE, Jan. 24 (AP)—Construction through private instead of federal funds of Hell's canyon dam would mean an additional $3,000,000 in state tax revenue, the governor said.

He said he is concerned that under federal construction of Hell's canyon dam, Idaho might lose the benefits of the power generated. He said it could be diverted downstream and lost to Idaho.

Truman Appoints Panel to Control U. S. Subversives

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (U.P.)—President Truman today named a non-partisan commission the job of making the nation's biggest investigation of subversives and recommending steps which would guard both the national security and individual freedom.

Some critics complained the action was late and had little value. But the President's action was seen as his answer to the McCarran anti-subversive act made law over his veto. He had been chastised to find a better way to control subversion.

By-passing congress, Mr. Truman created a nine-member commission on internal security and individual rights to study subversive problems both in and out of the government.

Floor leader Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific war hero, was named chairman. Other members will be named later. The President hoped the job can be done in a year.

Solon Revolt Cut Short as Test Averted

BOISE, Jan. 24 (U.P.)—A revolt against Gov. Len Jordan's economy program broke out in the Idaho senate today but administrative leaders forestalled a test of its strength.

The revolt was sparked by opposition to Jordan's recommendations for cuts in education expenditures, broke out when the senate began debate on a measure transferring $2,000,000 from the general fund to the permanent building fund.

Amendment Okayed

Earlier, the senate, dividing on strictly party lines for the first time this session, voted to ratify the proposed 22nd amendment to the constitution to limit Presidents to two terms.

Sen. Erwin Schwisbert, R., Caldwell, an educator in private life, asked unanimous consent to hold the permanent building fund appropriation on the calendar. He said if the legislature determined the $2,000,000 could be used better "for some other needs," a method should be found.

Opposes Action

Sen. William C. Moore, R., Latah, a finance committee member, objected and said, "If you start hanging things on the finance committee now, where are we going to end up?"

Sen. William J. Corlett, D., Lewis, Custer, said he agreed with Schwisbert, and moved that the bill retain its place on the calendar. Sen. J. Kenneth Thatcher, R., Madison, seconded the motion.

The motion would have required two-thirds majority but Sen. Earl J. Bostrom, R., Twin Falls, moved for a final expiration, a treatment in which most Idaho Power company employes are proficient. The ruling was promptly approved, ending the shock and was able to return to work a few days after the accident.

"Idaho Power Company's safety program works continuously toward eliminating carelessness and other causes of accidents, but it can accident does occur, prompt and first aid is a proven factor in saving lives," Russell commented in presenting the certificate.

The certificate is from the Edison Electric Institute, a national association of electric industries.

liquor and beer as one of the parole conditions.

James Lee Roach, 18-year-old Nebraska farm laborer, was sentenced to serve not more than 14 years for forging a $35 check. In view of his age and other factors the sentence was withheld and he was placed on parole for three years.

The parole terms were the same as those given by a federal court in California after conviction of taking a stolen auto across state lines in connection with the forgery.

Judge Baker instructed Sheriff Jesse Dallon not to return Roach until he has obtained money to make the check good and money to pay his transportation to his family in Nebraska.

W. O. Wilson, 60-year-old itinerant farm worker, was sentenced to serve not more than three years for drawing a $7 check without funds. The sentence was commuted to four months in the county jail at the time of his arraignment.

Lawrence B. Quinn, court-appointed attorney defending Wilson, pointed out he is without funds or employment and as a World war I veteran he may be able to obtain needed hospitalization through the veterans administration.

Asks Leniency

Also asking leniency for his client was T. M. Robertson, appointed by the court to defend Tomjue.

Charles Brown, accused of forgery and represented by Harry Povey, entered a guilty plea Tuesday afternoon. A similar plea was made by Ruben Stokes. He is charged with assault with a deadly weapon to commit murder. E. M. Rayborn is his attorney.

Both men are to be sentenced at 10 a.m. Friday.

Athletes May Be Drafted as U. S. Non-Combatants

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—Defense Secretary Marshall said yesterday athletes who fail to pass selective service physical examinations may be drafted for non-combat jobs.

Marshall said the army expects to see a repetition of policies in the last war which permitted physical deferments for men able to make a living at athletics.

The discussion, before the house armed services committee, didn't get down to details as to just what is to be done. The general implication, however, was that spots will be found for such men where their physical defects would interfere with service.

Representative Elston, R., O., set off the exchange in the course of testimony by Marshall on the proposal to draft 18-year-olds and set up a system of universal military service and training.

Job Openings in Valley Increased Slightly in Week

Employment openings in Magic Valley increased slightly last week to 73 by Saturday, A. J. Meeks, manager of the Twin Falls office of the Idaho state employment service, disclosed Wednesday.

He said there was little outdoor work in the Burley area because of weather conditions. The Twin Falls office had an increase in job listings from orders for telepye operators and more irrigators.

In the Gooding area bad weather and poor potato prices were blamed for a low level of employment. Many inquiries about defense jobs were received by the Gooding office.

On the statewide labor market, the defense mobilization was beginning to be felt. Unemployment was far below that of the same time last year although there was no serious shortage of workers.

The IESS predicted that Idaho's surplus of workers will disappear "in a hurry" when defense plants are ready to hire great numbers of workers with lesser skills. So far the defense plants have recruited only workers with considerable skill, education and experience.

"Worst winters in years ...but my car ran better!"

says RICHARD PEATE
122 W. Adams Ave., Pueblo, Colo.

"For four record-breaking winters, I was one of a group who tested new Conoco Super Motor Oil before it was put on the market. Winter after winter, through snow drifts and blizzards, I travelled over mountain highways from Pueblo to Gunnison.

"MY CAR RAN BETTER THOSE WINTERS THAN EVER BEFORE! That's because Conoco Super actually improved performance in cold weather. With proper clean and regular care, my gasoline mileage was virtually as good as when I began the test."

After a total of 386,422 miles, logged by Mr. Peate and other drivers, Conoco engineers found no wear of any consequence! Analysis of drains showed this great oil actually stopped the dangerous accumulation of free water and acids, chief causes of winter wear. This test proved that new Conoco Super Motor Oil with OIL-PLATING, fights oil rust, corrosion and sludge. So, change to winter-grade Conoco Super, now.

March of Dimes Contribution Made in Memory of Veteran Victim of Disease

One contribution to the March of Dimes in Twin Falls this week was a memorial donation for Robert Winans, Twin Falls, who died of polio at Boise in October, 1950.

The donation was given to the March of Dimes by Mrs. Lora Shelley and Walter Doss, owners of Doss Cleaners, as the former employers of Winans. "We wanted to give to the March of Dimes in memory of Bob because we saw, through him, what the March of Dimes does for the victims of polio," Mrs. Shelley explains.

Winans died after a frantic but futile effort by doctors to save his life for five weeks in a Boise hospital. The cost of his hospitalization was more than $1,200 a month, all paid by the Twin Falls county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Winans fought for his life along with the doctors, but the disease was too much for him. He had been captured by the Japanese on Corregidor in May, 1942 and, by the time he was liberated in February, 1945, his weight had dropped from 156 pounds to 86 pounds. Army doctors reported he had dysentery, malnutrition and a duo-denal ulcer.

After several months in hospitals, Winans had started on the road to recovery. But when he came down with polio he still had not rebuilt his strength to the point where his body could combat the disease.

"I had never thought about the work of the March of Dimes too much until we visited Bob in the Boise hospital several times," Mrs. Shelley adds. "But the treatment he received there was as careful and elaborate as possible, and it all was paid for through the March of Dimes. Bob could not have afforded that expensive care himself."

So when the March of Dimes rolled around this year, Mrs. Shelley and Doss wanted to remember Bob Winans. Their contribution was made in memory of him because he had received so much from the contributions of others.

WHAT A PRICE TO PAY!

The British know that red Chinese soldiers have killed and are killing Britons in Korea and that rebels who may get financial and other aid from communist China are killing British fighting men in Malaya.

The French are thoroughly aware that the communist Viet Minh forces in Indo-China, which have been battling a French army there for five years, are supplied with weapons and training by the red Chinese.

Yet the British believe it is proper and sensible to maintain a relatively thriving trade with the Chinese communists through the British crown colony at Hong Kong. This trade most certainly includes materials which are of value to the Chinese war machine.

And the other day the French were reported to have shipped nearly 140,000 tons of steel rails to red China. Any child knows the role played by transport in fueling an army with supplies.

The British are quite cool—one might say indifferent—to the fate of Formosa, a rich island which might conceivably have prime strategic importance in keeping powerfully industrial Japan out of red hands. Yet there are plenty of signs Britain would howl in anguish if Hong Kong were threatened.

What is the explanation?

Plainly, it indicates that both the French and British value Chinese trade so highly they consider it worth the lives of a substantial number of their soldiers.

We all know the British live by exporting. Looking at Britain's economy from the outside and from this distance, it may not be possible to judge fairly how vital the Chinese trade is to that country. But one may at least question whether Britain might not find some substitute for commerce which continues at the price of British blood.

The same may be said for France, which is less a world trading power but nevertheless maintains an active interchange of goods within its colonial empire and with nations on the fringe of that empire. Does the profit from 140,000 tons of rails show when cast in the balance against the bodies of French dead in Indo-China?

More than a few observers of postwar life in France and Britain believe that more than just economic advantage leads these countries to cling desperately to this trade. They believe intense national pride is a great factor, especially in Britain.

Britain already has witnessed a vast shrinkage of her pre-war empire. She has not adjusted to the fact, has not reconciled herself to the drastic curtailment of her world power. She still tends to think of herself in the old terms. Any further shrinkage is viewed with pain.

France, too, hates to face the thought of diminishing global power. She prefers to imagine that past glories are still hers.

If these observers are right, then the British and French, who are supposed to share the touted tradition of European realism, are showing themselves to be highly unrealistic. Failure to come to grips with reality could be a big reason why their moral resolve is so weak in the present world dilemma.

For surely a lack of moral conviction lies at the root of any decision to trade with a nation which is killing your citizens with ruthless calculation.

MISGUIDED INDIANS

For more than two and a half months the Chinese communists have been in Korea, killing Americans, British, French, Dutch, Turks and a lot of others. In plain language, they have been making war on the United Nations.

But the Indians and some others who favor the fearful, negative approach to every issue involving communists don't want to take account of this painful fact. They would like to pretend it isn't happening, that the Chinese reds are just a bunch of misguided fellows who have been a little rash in protecting their property.

What India seems to be saying to us is that, if we don't watch out, these Chinese (who are making war on us) will start making war on us.

Certainly neither we nor anybody else want a full scale land war against red China. But that doesn't mean we have to knuckle under to the aggression they're now pressing in Korea. You don't combat aggression by ignoring it. You face up to it—one way or another. That's what we're trying to do.

The Indians don't seem to understand the need for this. Apparently this world is just too tough for them. They may not have many more years in which to harden their very soft muscles.

A STIFF LITTLE PUN

Reportorial anecdotes and yarns about our big-wigs in Washington, although foolish, fabulous and obviously artificial, sometimes more truly reflect the atmosphere in and around the nation's capital than do some of our columnists' profound essays and observations.

Whatever one of the latest yarns making the rounds among Washington wags might reflect, it goes as follows:

That President Truman's health is not too good, despite White House medical reports, is no secret. There seems to be no denying it took him at least three hours on a recent morning before he could put his foot in his mouth.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON — Although the members of the supreme court have not swapped their black gowns for khaki uniforms, the nine jurists seem to appreciate that the United States cannot prepare for or fight a war under a program of harnessing business and industry, even if it means that certain new deal-fair deal reforms must be junked.

In a recent decision in the Standard Oil company's action against a federal trade commission order, the court called a halt to the first time to that agency's series of attacks on established pricing systems which have furnished the foundation for the nation's industrial structure and growth during peace and war.

Ray Tucker

REBUFF—It represents the only rebuff the reorganized FTC has received in the courts in cases of this nature. It may not set a precedent for future decisions, since the lineup now consists of the FTC, with one member (Minton) not participating.

Such a close call indicates the top judges are as bewildered by the FTC's behaviour as the nation's business men are. There is no experienced businessman on the court.

However, it suggests that, as happened during World war II with respect to anti-trust suits against leading industrial firms during mobilization, the court may issue a cease-fire order for the duration to the refraining fair deal skirmishers in President Truman's executive army.

SIN—As in the famous basing point litigation, the FTC apparently believes that lowering prices is a sin, even if the reduction results from ordinary business practices rather than from monopolistic conspiracies. It also seems headed toward a similar attitude in its current consideration of the validity of functional pricing.

In the Standard Oil case, the commissioners held that the company had no right to sell gasoline to four Detroit jobbers at a lower price than it sold to other smaller service station customers in the area. The sixth circuit court of appeals upheld the commission.

FAITH—Standard Oil lawyers argued that the lower price was justified because it was made to retain them as customers and in a legitimate attempt to meet the equally low price of a competitor.

Under such circumstances, with Justice Burton delivering the majority opinion, the case went back to the FTC for it to determine whether the sales were made in good faith and for the purpose outlined by Standard's spokesmen.

The company had contended, strangely, that the question of good faith did not enter into the matter. Its view was that the effect of the sales at the lower price was to destroy competition, and they were therefore illegal.

CONFUSION—The high court's apparent change of heart—or mind—reflects a growing uneasiness among many business men over the apparent confusion and distortion which its previous ratification of revolutionary FTC rulings has created in manufacturing and merchandising fields.

The court's action in the basing point system, with the result that not even expert counsel and industrialists know whether absorption of freight costs to meet competition is legal. It sustained the FTC in its ban on quantity discounts.

Several other FTC state at business are expected within the next few months, with consequent litigation at a time when maximum production is the nation's critical need. And industry cannot turn out weapons if its top men must spend hours in law offices and courts.

TIMES—Although it is not realized generally except in legal circles, and then largely by veterans at the bar, the supreme court frequently considers existing needs and conditions, as well as the strict letter of the statute, in reaching its judgments. In other words, a good judge tempers the law to the times.

Thus, it may be that even the ultra-liberal fringe on the Roosevelt-Truman tribunal may come to feel the current crisis, involving national survival, requires it to pull its punches against the industrial system which enabled the United States to win two world wars, and without which we cannot emerge victorious in another global conflict.

CRIME—Sen. Estes Kefauver's announcement that he would wind up his investigation of organized crime within a few weeks seems to have caused general astonishment, and rejoicing among the crooks and their political allies. Many underworld characters will resume business soon at the old stand.

But the Tennessee chairman gives sound reasons for quitting now. He points out that his assignment was to reveal the problem of interstate syndicates, and to show how they could be broken up. He believes the task now falls upon local enforcement officers. He cannot continue indefinitely as a Sherlock Holmes for the nation. He has neglected his personal and political affairs woefully.

Ironically, he has had almost no administration support. A relatively trivial law banning interstate shipment of slot machines is the only sour fruit of the inquiry. This rule touches only local and national politicos to be a healthy situation, in his committee's opinion.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

"LUCKY DENVER"

Television . . . Ah, how glad we Denverites should be we haven't got it! At least, that's what a sad young fellow from Chicago tells us. Being a salesman, he drives home his point with convincing force.

"Good old Denver," he sighed, "Lucky Denver. Such a relief to get back here away from the video. Hell! It's transforming us all into a race of vidiots. Do the school kids do their homework? No. They watch television. And this blight that has been telecast upon us starts long before the school age.

"Trying to be a good father I perch our youngest on my knee and reach for a picture book. Does he relax? Does he snuggle, even as you and I in our teddybear years? No. He squirms like a wriggler, eating tapeworm. He looks toward the darkened room where the other kids sit huddled 'round a flickering screen.

"Vainly I try to draw his attention to Goldilocks and the Three Bears. Who wants to look at old picture books, he sniffs, when television shows it better? And the lady on the screen tells the stories better, too. Fat chance a guy has to be pals with his offspring in a television world."

As for that schoolwork problem, the sad young father tells us he's had to put the television set in a locked room with him to get the kids through their lessons are done. By that time the small fry are yawning and he's as popular around his house as bubonic plague on shipboard.

"Good old Denver" he cries wistfully. "Just look at her. New coat of gold on the capitol dome and not one paper-clip-shaped antenna on a single roof-top to mar the view of it. You lucky people! You perfectly normal human beings beyond the ravages of the iconoscope. What's going to happen to you when television comes shouldn't happen to any happy, unsuspecting people."—Denver Post.

NO CAUSE FOR EXCITEMENT

Official Washington university's unexcited attitude toward communist pamphlet which was distributed on the campus is entirely reasonable and healthy.

Simply because a screed bearing a postoffice box address turns up is no reason to suspect plots and conspiracies. The fact is that, as a university statement reported, there is no evidence that any Washington university communist group, if one really does exist, "is having any noticeable affect on the campus."

Particularly is there no reason to haul out the klieg lights and the professional hysterics and launch a witch hunt. One communist pamphlet, more probably spawned off the campus than on, has made an appearance. That is all that has happened, and that is not worth the effort of worrying about.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

CUTE STUFF

Dear Gertie:

Most folks think dogs are cute little critters and I agree, except when the mongrel next door makes life irritating.

All cours, it does have its bright side—like this one:

A serviceman came to the house the other day. He'd been delayed elsewhere by an emergency call and was subjected to a rather scathing bit of comment when he did drive up. His excuse was accepted. But when he was sighted a few minutes later wandering dejectedly around the yard, it was just about the last straw.

Standing firm against the tirade of wrath, he merely replied:

"My rubber's gone!"

Investigation showed the pup next door had carried them off. Now did the gent charge for the time he was looking for those rubbers? And should I bill the owner of the dog?

Tray Girl—Thanks for the tip. We might be able to work that up into a little feature if the gent in question doesn't object. Of course, if he won't go for it, we can't do much. Hmm! Because it would be classified as an invasion of his privacy.

FIGURED IT OUT

Dear Pot Shots:

Some people have bright dogs. Others brag about their children. Me, I got a cat.

Now scientists know a lot more about thinking than I do. Some say animals can think, other say not. Some say dogs are smarter than cats and kids are smarter than dogs.

Me, I don't know.

But I do know that my cat is smart. Other day the cat wanted to mooch some milk from a glass. The level of the fluid was too low for her tongue to reach. So—o, dish of milk, forthwith, immediately, post haste and with dispatch, nonchalantly dipped her paw into the milk and licked it off. She kept this up until the glass was empty.

Pretty cute, huh?

YA CAN'T WIN!

Sir:

In response to the "Famous Last Line" concerning farmers figuring social security on wages, may I add my two cents worth? Last summer, many farmers experienced inefficient workers.

Men who could not learn to milk cows with a mechanical milker would work; if you could call it work, only eight hours a day, leaf when left alone, run with the gang until all hours of every night, take every Sunday off regardless of agreement, demand wages of more than twice their value at best and quit if given one word of reprimand.

Several farmers that I know are now re-doing the work that was hired done last summer. The last straw is to fool with figures on social security. Many of us have resolved to do our own work if possible and let the rest go undone rather than hire help again.

MORE ABOUT SPUDS

Dear Potso:

A few weeks ago the farmer was receiving $1 for 100 pounds of No. 1 spuds at the storage in Twin Falls. We were selling them for $3.90. I figure that $1.25 should take care of the sacks, sorting, hauling and the grocer's share for selling them. That leaves $1.65 clear profit for the spud buyer or middleman.

Why don't the people of Twin Falls go to the farmers when they live so close and give him $2 for No. 1 spuds? That'd help the farmer and save money for them.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—I agree with President Truman that this war of his is going to cost so much that everybody will have to make sacrifices. I am quite willing to pay my share, whatever it may be.

But Harry S. Truman is not paying his fair share and I resent his special privilege and demand that congress revoke the law granting him an outright graft of $50,000 a year in the guise of expense money, subject to neither accounting nor taxation.

Westbrook Pegler

This is the most arrogant assertion of special privilege ever pulled off by a political gang, who have come to regard themselves not as agents and servants of the American people but as our rulers.

It is corrupt practice.

Inasmuch as Mr. Truman hasn't the decency to repudiate the graft and the corrupt intentions of congress in passing the law, public opinion should compel congress to repeal it.

The invitation to make a handsome gesture of honor lapsed when he failed to veto a bill that was rushed through the 81st congress just before his inauguration.

This rush-act was an obvious trick because the constitution provides that the President's compensation "shall neither be increased nor diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected."

The present term to which he was "elected" began on Jan. 20, 1949. This was his congress, the 81st, which had returned Truman's party to power after his abusive campaign against the Republican 80th congress.

It can be argued strongly that the $50,000 graft never has been legal because Truman was "elected" for the term in which the rate was put through. That is to say, he was elected vice president with a constitutional proviso that he should become President in case of Roosevelt's death.

The constitution provides another explicit forbiddance against this crooked device wherein it says further that the President "shall not receive any other emolument from the United States . . ." during his term of office.

That word "other" shows that the founding fathers held that emolument and compensation meant the same thing.

The title of the act which accomplished this vicious fraud with its corrosive and disruptive influence on the morals of the body politic was the President's "compensation," the term used to define his pay in the constitution, shall include an expense allowance at the rate of $50,000 per annum.

Therefore, it is seen that congress didn't even take the trouble to mask the graft. The $50,000 was included in the President's "compensation."

To be sure, it was dishonestly described as an "expense allowance," but it still is compensation and therefore income by any honest interpretation of the fateful 16th amendment, which wiped out the old relationship between the American people and the federal government.

It made the people abject slaves of congress whose entire income from whatever source derived belonged by right and by law to the government.

Not many citizens, and few of the senators and congressmen, then understood the terrible meaning of the lack of any limitation on the power of congress to take the income of the people.

Had the amendment limited that grasping power to 20 per cent or 50 per cent the people still would have been masters of their government.

But when the amendment went through with the approval of a servile, selfish electorate whose only thought was to sock the rich, congress became a despotic body.

I have on my desk a letter from a wretched woman who had been visiting her husband in a federal prison. He is doing a year and a day for an income tax "fraud."

You may say that it serves the fellow right. But what do you say about Harry Truman's privilege of immunity from reporting or accounting for an income of $50,000 a year ostensibly for expenses incidental to his office?

We know that these expenses are thoroughly provided for in other funds. We know that the Trumans are typical non-spending, mid-western hicks. They wouldn't know how to throw a party even if they were of a mind to take the rubber off the roll.

These facts we do know. But do the people also know that the same law that put over this graft also provided $1,375,140 for the expenses of the White House office, and for "travel and official entertainment expenses to be accounted for solely on his certificate?"

Do they know he got a $25,000 raise in pay and that he gets another "expense allowance" of $40,000?

"Certificate" means his mere statement, without oath. You are subject to the penalties for perjury.

Complicated, isn't it? You wouldn't suspect that they planned it that way to confuse us. Would you?

This woman writes that her husband was denied bail during his appeal and was sent away for a year and a day without an hour to put his business affairs in order.

He has been in prison several months already. He probably will have served his entire minimum sentence and be eligible for parole before his wife can marshal together typewritten records of the testimony and other data needed for the appeal.

That can happen to anyone by means of clever, vindictive political enforcement of the internal revenue act. Remember that one of the great eastern newspaper chains of a few years ago was admonished to invoke the penal provisions of the income tax laws to "get" isolationists.

Meanwhile, as this woman bitterly points out, the traitor Judy Coplon, without appeal, was sentenced to imprisonment by the court of appeals, and Alger Hiss, whose treason was constructively implied in his conviction for perjury, go free on bail.

This income-tax prisoner never can be repaid the months he will have spent in prison nor fully compensated for his mental anguish and his wife's even though he should be vindicated on appeal and congress should pass an appropriation of money to indemnify him.

The duty of a citizen to pay taxes has more and more been turned into a menace to his liberty and honor. Not one in 1,000 can understand the tangled language, professional experts make mistakes, and honest errors are crimes.

President Truman is said to be a truly representative common man, the veritable George Spelvin, American, come to glory in the White House.

I believe he is.

But the trouble is that the common man, George Spelvin, American, is just typical, not ideal.

A President should be an ideal American. Spelvin would yield to a sordid temptation to get rich in the presidency by special privilege.

A President should be above that.

Police Seek Man Asking Funds on False Pretenses

Twin Falls police were notified Tuesday by Jerome and Burley police to watch for a person attempting to secure money under false pretenses and for three short-change artists.

At Jerome a man was reported soliciting funds for the Salvation Army. Lieut. Ree Montgomery, commander of the Twin Falls Salvation Army, told police here no one was doing it with the consent of the group. The man was described as being about 40 years old, tall, heavy build, blue eyes and wearing a dark suit and a rain coat.

Two men and a woman, all about 30, attempted to short-change a cafe operator in Burley, but fled when the operator called the police.

One of the men was described as tall and well dressed and the other as short, well dressed, medium brown hair, brown eyes and wearing a two-tone suit. The woman was dark complexioned and her eyebrows were painted heavily. She was well dressed and carried a shoulder strap purse.

"Ike" Learns Defense Army Job Is Rough

By PRESTON GROVER

LONDON, Jan. 24 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has completed his tour of Europe's Atlantic pact nations with one certain finding—the job of building a defense will be brutally hard, but possible.

This correspondent has accompanied the same tour covered its same nations, and has talked to some of the people Eisenhower has seen and to some he has not.

Pauses in Paris

Eisenhower, pausing now in Paris before he flies tomorrow to Iceland, Canada and Washington, so far has presented to each country roughly the same proposition. He has told each one:

1. The risk of Russian aggression, either by diplomatic pressure or troops, is great. Russian aggression means the end of everything western civilization represents.

2. America is arming, expensively and fast.

3. America will help Europe arm. What is the maximum Europe can contribute?

Answers Not Satisfactory

The answers in each case—with the possible exception of Britain—has not been enough to satisfy the man who must make western defense work.

The hard fact is that most of western Europe doesn't want to spend money and most of it is scared.

The west Europeans don't want to spend money because, in each case, it means giving up a lot of bacon, cars and stoves they only lately have again after long years of privation during and after World war II.

Early Start

They are scared because they know war may start before the United States, Britain and France—the countries which really can do something—are strong enough to act.

Officials of the little nations have indicated any rearmament they may get going now would only invite retaliation from Russia if the reds decided to sweep over Europe soon.

Eisenhower has answered that each nation must do its utmost. If one nation hangs back, another will use that as an excuse to hang back. And here is the kicker—

If they all hang back, the U. S. congress will not vote the money to send arms and troops to Europe.

That argument has a sting in it.

State officials attending the meeting were Warren Clifford, Boise, state commander; Robert Wykoff, Boise, state service officer; Guy Harris, Coeur d'Alene, quartermaster-adjutant; Don Ingalls, Coeur d'Alene, chief of staff, and Mrs. James Ingalls, Coeur d'Alene, president of the state auxiliary.

Hank Goes All-Out Observing Special National Thrift Week

By HENRY McLEMORE

This is national thrift week and, naturally, I am observing it.

I always observe "weeks" right up to the hilt.

When it's cotton week I wear nothing but cotton, including cotton shoes and hats. When it's doughnut week I eat nothing but doughnuts, for breakfast, lunch, high tea and dinner.

McLemore

When it's plant-a-tree week I dig up the pavements of New York and plant forests of redwoods, teak and mighty oaks. When it's love your congressman week I send the representative of my congressional district Rolls-Royces, chinchilla lap robes, Strasburg pate de foie gras and Boyal—Copenhagen stuffed ballot box.

The letter from the National Thrift committee, Inc., of the national thrift week had no more than been read than I started practicing thrift with what high-toned writers call a vengeance.

The first thing I did was take a drawerful of bills and throw them in the waste basket. Heaven knows how much that saved me right there. Big ol' companies like Consolidated Edison, New York Telephone and Saks-Fifth Avenue are not going to suffer if I don't pay 'em the piddling amounts I owe them.

I am willing to bet that you'll never read a headline saying "New York Telephone Fails Because Henry McLemore Was Thrifty Enough Not to Pay What He Owes It."

My next step in being thrifty was to wash a couple of my shirts instead of sending them to the dry cleaner. They're just as clean as whistles. Not a spot on either of them. There is no joy in it who wouldn't be proud to wear them.

Another thrift measure, which is working out most satisfactorily, is that of cutting out the coupons in papers. I told the newspaper vendor not to deliver any more expensive newspapers.

I now set the alarm at 8 a. m., bound from my bed like a 44-year-old gazelle, and go out into the hall—in front of every neighbor's door is a stack of newspapers. Hopping from door to door, I read them. By 8:30 a. m. I am back in bed, my head filled with the news of the day. At no cost whatsoever, unless you call pneumonia caught from the cold floors a cost.

Since thrift week came in I have cut every possible corner.

When I go to "21" for lunch I am careful to order the $4 hot dog instead of the $6 hamburger.

When I travel by subway I make sure to leap the turnstiles, thus saving 10 cents, and if I live in be 200 years old and save a dime every time I leap I'll have a comfortable nest egg for my old age, when I'm 250.

When I go to the Stork club I carry a hip flask and order nothing but plain water for a setup. This makes my bill come to exactly nothing, and $5 is plus dividend, I get some of the nicest stares from celebrities you ever saw.

No more professional haircuts for me. I went to the 10-cent store and tried on bowl after bowl until I got one that fitted my head. And now I give myself a haircut in five minutes. And I don't tip myself, either.

Of course, the best way to save money is to make your own. I'd be doing that now if it weren't for the fact that our money printing press works on current and we have only AC here.

(Distributed by McNaught syndicate, Inc.)

Members of 4-H Clubs Entertained

HAGERMAN, Jan. 24—Hagerman 4-H boys and girls who completed their projects and entered work in the Gooding county fair last August were guests at a party given by members of the Hagerman 4-H council last Friday evening in the Civic club rooms.

Robert E. Higgins, Gooding county agent, was the speaker. Games were played under the leadership of Mrs. Charles R. Blackhart, Mrs. Ward Mariner and Mrs. Ed Horne.

A small award was given each boy and girl on behalf of the council. Blue and red ribbons won at the Jerome district fair will be sent out soon.

U. N. Troops' Morale Good, Reports Show

By HARRY FERGUSON
UP Foreign News Editor

Field dispatches from Korea say the United Nations army is rich in the biggest asset a fighting force can have—high morale.

The GIs and their allies don't underrate the Chinese communists, but they don't think they are supermen either. There have been recurring reports since last June that the Americans in Korea were disciplined. These reports said the men weren't sure what they were fighting for and that they didn't see any logic in Korea; and that the air force pilots were unhappy because they couldn't chase the enemy beyond the Yalu river.

Peterson

Traditional Grumblers

All soldiers are traditional grumblers, but there doesn't seem to be much doubt that the U. N. army was unhappy when it started its retreat from the Yalu river. Victory was in sight. The North Korean army had been largely dispersed. Men were talking about getting back to Tokyo or even to the United States. Then what Gen. Douglas MacArthur called "a new war" broke out.

The Chinese communist hordes descended on our forces and the GIs started on the road back. The fact that the evacuation by sea at Hungnam was a model of a military operation didn't help the U. N. troops in getting over the feeling that they were being kicked around.

The principal factors in building morale are expert leadership, good food, good weapons and a will to fight. The U. N. army is well-fed, well-armed and has had expert leadership under both the late Lieut.-Gen. Walton H. Walker and its present commander, Lieut.-Gen. Matthew Ridgway.

Hearkened by Leaders

One thing that has heartened the GIs in recent days is that their top brass has told them they weren't going to be kicked around any more; they were going to stay in Korea and fight. They heard it from MacArthur, from Gen. J. Lawton Collins and from Ridgway who told them possession of "real estate" in Korea was not what they were fighting for. He said they were fighting to guarantee that our way of life would not go under and disappear beneath the red tide of communism.

There may be more withdrawals in Korea. There may be defeats. But every indication is that the United Nations army is ready and well-set today to meet the enemy any place and any time.

Cruelty Claimed In Divorce Plea

Setting forth specific instances of cruelty, she claims that during the past three or four years her husband drank to excess and became abusive. They separated during May, 1950, according to the complaint.

G. P. Duvall is the wife's attorney.

ANNIVERSARY FETED

HANSEN, Jan. 24—Charles Hranac was guest at a surprise dinner Saturday honoring his 77th birthday anniversary.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

"Mother, can I go with Abe to his church tomorrow morning? They're having special things. Can I?"

"Yes, of course, if he asked you to."

"He did ask me and so did his mother. She said, 'Ask your mother if you can go. Tell her that I'll be with you and Abe.'"

"That's very nice. You'll enjoy it. The music will be lovely I know. Watch and listen well so you can tell me all about it when you come home." Tommy ran gleefully to shout to Abe, "She says 'Yes'!"

"Did I hear right, Mary? Did I hear you saying that Tommy could go to the synagogue with Abe tomorrow?"

"Yes. I was glad he got the chance. It's fine for children to learn that God speaks all languages and says the same thing in all of them: 'Little children, love one another.'"

"Your grandmother would turn in her grave."

And let her, say I. It is high time that the children of all faiths, all races, knew that they stand on common ground, though one church carries a cross on its steeple, one a star, another nothing but the slender finger pointing upward to heaven. High time that the worship of God united people rather than divided them. This should be markedly true in this land of ours where are gathered the peoples from the four corners of the earth to a common freedom.

Nobody expects everybody to be just like him, eating the same food, wearing the same clothes, living in the same faith, the same beliefs, but everybody expects everybody to eat, drink, believe and live in freedom, sharing a common heritage of commonness, alike and different, friends one to another.

Children are the true democrats, true believers in a common brotherhood. Not until some misguided adult points out their supposed superiority in one particular or another have they the slightest consciousness of any of the sort.

"Don, I saw you walking down the street arm-in-arm with that Smith boy this afternoon. Can't you find anybody more your equal?"

"My equal? Gosh, he's away ahead of me. He's captain of the team and a darned fine pitcher."

Better let it go at that. It is the American way and a darned fine way at that.

Would you like some suggestions for a child's birthday party? Dr. Patri's booklet No. 854, "Your Child and Other Parties," includes a few hints for the party. To obtain a copy send 10 cents (preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to him, c/o Times-News, P. O. Box 99, Station C, New York 19, N. Y.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By BOB GILLIAN

Business men and sportsmen in Ketchum can feel proud of their efforts during the past two years, in cooperation with the state fish and game department, for gathering valuable information about fish survival in Big Wood river.

Gillian

The river, so the department says, is typical of mountain streams in Idaho and the information received will help govern future plantings of trout in the state.

Through tagging planted fish it was learned 60 per cent of trout planted were recovered by fishermen. As an incentive for turning tags over to the proper authorities, the Ketchum businessmen offered prizes for certain numbers.

We learn the river was divided into 18 sections, each three to five miles long with well-defined boundaries. Records were kept of 850 tag numbers in each of 12 sections from Bellevue to Galena store, a distance of 44 stream miles. An assortment of lower tag numbers were distributed in Warm Springs creek.

This is was possible to learn how far a fish would migrate in a season. One trout ventured 46 miles from the place it was planted. Fish migrated several miles both up and down stream. Maximum upstream migration was 40 miles.

The part the fisherman wants to know is that more fish were caught in an area 10 miles in the immediate vicinity of Ketchum than any other section of the popular river.

Creel census collected with the tagging data showed 291 fishermen caught 2,043 rainbow trout weighing approximately 883 pounds, for an average success ratio of seven fish, or three pounds of fish for each fishing trip.

Every season students at the Southern Idaho College of Education coach the athletic teams at Albion high school. As a rule they do a commendable job, often rating as high as their professional brothers in rival schools.

Jay Evans, a dark and likable student, is coaching Albion basketball this season. Two years ago Jay coached the Albion football team into the annual Times-News Potato bowl's eight-man football division.

Jay was a regular member of the SICE basketball team last year. His services could have been used this season, however, as Owen Orsen's team which is finding the going tough. But a touch of polio ended Jay's active playing days last summer.

From all reports, he is doing a bang-up job at Albion high with the talent that is available.

A shake-up in football conferences for class B schools in Magic Valley seems to be in the picture for next season. The Hagerman Pirates probably will pull out of the Little Six conference and enter the Magic Valley class B conference.

This will give the Little Six, also composed of Hailey, Kimberly, Glenns Ferry, Wendell and Shoshone, schedule troubles indeed.

Mountain Home goes through with speculative plans of joining the loop.

The Magic Valley league will become a close-knit affair. Teams currently in the conference are Hansen, Paul, Heyburn, Castleford, Rupert, Murtaugh and Declo. With the addition of Hagerman, a round-robin schedule could be played and would be adequate with no other games scheduled.

As an added incentive for teams in the Magic Valley conference, the league champ automatically becomes the home team in the Potato bowl.

Burley Team Nips Bruins 41-36 as Buhl, Oakley Win

The Burley Bobcats evened the score with the Twin Falls Bruins Tuesday night in Burley in a nip and tuck 41-36 contest. The game shared the spotlight with two Big Seven conference contests that saw the Buhl Indians defeat the Gooding Senators 41-37 and the Oakley Hornets nip the Filer Wildcats 53-47 in an overtime game.

Other action in the valley saw the Heyburn Panthers defeat Eden 66-46, Wendell down Gooding 54-30, Paul stop Albion 56-30, Castleford wallop Hazelton 58-16, Glenns Ferry trip Mountain Home 51-38 and Declo beat Hansen 40-22.

The Burley cagers, defeated by the Bruins last month in Twin Falls, evened the series in a hard-played game. The Bobcats took a 14-8 first quarter lead, but Twin Falls came back to narrow the margin to 19-17 at the half.

Then the third-period lull that has stopped Twin Falls all season saw the Bobcats post their victory margin. Twin Falls scored six points in the third period to 12 for Burley.

Manny Snyder, Burley junior, Bailey Burton with 14. Don Smith tallied 12. Bobby Faisah was the spark for Twin Falls as he scored 13 points and played a good defense game.

Both teams connected on 14 field goals and Burley's margin came on the free throw line.

The Burley junior varsity defeated Twin Falls jayvees 39-33. Wilson led Burley with 18 points and Simmons topped Twin Falls with 15.

The Buhl Indians cashed in on the Big Seven title hopes with a hard-played game with the Gooding Senators. Buhl took a first quarter lead and held the margin all the way. Coach Lee Popplewell's Indians held a 20-16 margin at the half and a 33-28 lead going into the final quarter.

Reynolds, Denney and Brown were sparkplugs in the Buhl win. Reynolds scored 19 points, Denney 10 and Brown played a good game on the backboards. Top scoring honors went to Gooding's Owen with 14, followed by Stribling with 11.

Gooding's sharp junior varsity defeated Buhl jayvees 39-24.

Oakley and Filer battled tight down the line before the Hornets shaded the Wildcats in an overtime period. The game stood at 44-44 at the end of regulation play.

Filer took the lead twice to Oakley with T. Gorrings leading the way with four points in the overtime. Clark and Day each scored two points for Oakley in the overtime. D. Williamson hit a field goal and Allen a free throw for Filer in the overtime.

Oakley won the junior varsity contest in another close game, 43-41.

The Heyburn Panthers broke away midway in the second quarter to defeat Eden 66-46 in a rough and tumble game at Heyburn. Heyburn held a 17-13 first quarter lead and was up front 21-20 midway in the second quarter before Bus Connor and Gale Stimpson found the mark. Heyburn rushed away for a 41-29 lead at the half. Heyburn led all the way.

Top scoring honors went to Connor with 22. Henry led Eden with 15. Stimpson controlled the backboards for Heyburn. Newbry played a good game for the Orizzlies. Castleford won the contest in the second quarter. Heyburn won the junior varsity game 43-41.

Wendell had little trouble gaining its victory margin over the Gooding Redskins. The Trojans posted a 16-7 first quarter lead and extended it to 29-15 at the half. Peterson topped Wendell with 25 points. Wilding played good ball for the Redskins. Wendell won the junior varsity game 47-25.

Coach Gordon Brown's Glenns Ferry Pilots evened the score with their old rivals, Mountain Home, in a game at Glenns Ferry. The score was 51-33. Mountain Home won a game played earlier in Mountain Home.

One of the largest crowds in several years at Glenns Ferry watched the Pilots spring away for a 24-11 lead at the half and continue the pressure in the final two periods. Watkins led Glenns Ferry and Teverbaugh played outstanding ball for the invaders.

Glenns Ferry also won the junior varsity game 43-23. Rash topped Glenns Ferry with 14, while Hick scored 10 for Mountain Home.

Alumni Feud Makes Job Tough at USC

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 24 (U.P.)—Applications for University of Southern California's football coaching job dwindled today as a feud between the administration and alumni made the job "too hot to handle." Facing prospective candidates for the job was the picture of an alumni group that insists it will accept only Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns professional club.

The situation proved too much for Ray Eliot, Illinois. Even while he was out here conferring with university authorities, petitions were being circulated demanding that Brown be made an adequate offer.

And Brown's price was reported so high that President Fred D. Fagg balked. There were reports that the Cleveland coach would expect to get around $25,000 and a long-term contract before he even considered a change.

With gate receipts falling off and the draft seizing star prep school performers, Brown's price made the school shudder—but not the alumni.

Staring at coaches who might have the job was the prospect of being third choice behind Brown and Eliot and the possibility of a lack of alumni support in steering prospective football players to the school.

Despite the blank outlook for anyone but Brown or a name final figure in athletic circles like Herbert O. (Pritz) Crisler, still listed as possibilities at Southern California were Wes Fesler, Wisconsin; Dee Faurot, Missouri, or Bowden Wyatt, Wyoming.

Neyland Gets Lifetime Pact At Tennessee

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 24 (AP)—Gen. Bob Neyland was handed a lifetime contract today to continue developing precision, power-packed football teams at Tennessee.

Bob Neyland

Extension of Neyland's contract followed news of his most successful seasons. His 1950 team won 10 games, lost one and upset Texas, 20-14, in the Cotton bowl. Tennessee was the number 4 team in the country in the final Associated Press poll.

Salary terms were not disclosed.

Chairman N. W. Dougherty of the Tennessee athletic council said the new agreement called for a "slight increase" for Neyland and his entire staff.

Neyland's salary has never been announced. Speculation has placed it at $16,500, plus $2,500 annually for "expenses." The new contract is expected to run his pay well above the $20,000 mark, making Neyland one of collegiate football's highest paid coaches.

Dougherty in announcing the extension of Neyland's agreement said:

"Our agreement with General Neyland insures that he will remain at Tennessee for the remainder of his athletic career."

Neyland said, "I'm very happy to remain at Tennessee because I've always wanted to stay there."

Ed Williams Trips Danno To Keep Title

Eddie Williams took the full measure of Danno McDonald here Friday night to defend his Pacific Coast light heavyweight wrestling championship in two straight falls during the weekly mat program presented by the Twin Falls VFW.

Williams forced McDonald, a scrappy grappler from Canada, to give up for the first fall with an Indian Deathlock after 17 minutes to cop the second with a rolling arm lock.

It was a good, fast match and rated among the best seen here. Both men kept away from illegal tactics and used straight wrestling holds.

Mike Nazarian defeated Jack Pappenheim two out of three falls in the companion main event of the evening. Pappenheim won the first fall with a leg lock, while Nazarian came back to apply a painful judo arm lock to capture the remaining falls.

The Mysterious Mr. X defeated John Pavich one fall in the semi-final that went the 45-minute time limit. It was an active bout.

Dale Haddock refereed the bouts.

Kentucky Takes Over Top Place In National Poll of Cage Teams

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP)—After a three-week absence, Coach Adolph Rupp has his Kentucky Wildcats back to the top of the national basketball standings but the grass lads got a stiff argument from Long Island University.

In a tight battle of the ballots, Kentucky drew 64 first-place votes for 1,786 points to place Oklahoma A and M as the leader in the weekly Associated Press poll.

LIU, sporting the best record in the land, 15-0, attracted 62 first-place votes and 1,643 points to finish only 143 points behind Kentucky. Ten points are given for a first-place vote, nine for a second and so on.

Oklahoma A and M, after its upset loss to Oklahoma last Saturday, slipped to third place. The Aggies received 20 first-place votes and 1,434 points from the 222 sports writers and sportscasters who participated in the voting.

Bradley, which led for two weeks, also dropped, from third to fourth place. The Braves, who one week received 153 first-place votes, got only four this time. Bradley's point-total was 1,124.

Indiana's Big 10 league leaders moved into the top 5 slot, replacing St. John's of Brooklyn, which dropped to sixth. Indiana pulled in 1,026 points and 14 first-place votes.

Jury Opens Probe Into Cage Bribes

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP)—A Bronx grand jury opened a hearing into the Manhattan college basketball scandal Tuesday by talking to the player who was the target of a bribe attempt.

He is Junius Kellogg, 23-year-old Negro center for the Manhattan team, who said he was offered $1,000 last week to throw a game against DePaul. He reported the bribe at Tempi and Manhattan's two-year center.

Also before the grand jury was Manhattan's coach, Kenneth Norton. He said afterwards he testified about "Kellogg's reporting to me the attempt to bribe him."

The grand jury then recessed until Friday.

The University of Washington basketball team includes a pair of six-foot-seven specialists in Bob Houbregs and Doug McClary.

Coaches to Meet With Officials

FILER, Jan. 24—A meeting for basketball officials and coaches in the fourth district from Hansen to Castleford will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday at the Filer high school.

The basketball commissioner, Earl Williams, Eden, and officers of the District Four Officials association will discuss the commissioner system of assigning officials to work high school games.

Hearing Held On Fixes in Boxing Events

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 24 (AP)—A gambler accused of "fixing" two prize fights here so he could clean up on sure fire bets went before a special grand jury session Tuesday. The Shelby county grand jury was called to consider an indictment against Frank Casone. The move was asked by Dist. Atty. Gen. John Heiskell.

He said the state's prime witness would be one of four fighters accused of taking bribes in bouts staged last Nov. 21 — heavyweight Russell H. (Buddy) Scott of Dallas.

Heiskell said Scott and the other three boxers met in Casone's hotel suite the night before the fights to rehearse fake knockouts. Casone said he knew nothing about any fix then, and knows nothing about it now.

The attorney general said the grand jury also would consider a new indictment against James A. Manley, who promoted and refereed the bouts. He was previously indicted for bribery.

The indictment was handed down after testimony by the two Memphis fighters involved—Oscar Buchanan and Sanford L. Barrow. Heiskell said both men are now immune from prosecution.

The fourth fighter, Edward Burke, Birmingham, was recently jailed in Birmingham on a burglary charge. His ring name was Johnny McRae.

Nampa Edges Boise 36-33 To Take Lead

NAMPA, Jan. 24 (AP)—Nampa high school Tuesday night won 40th game in two seasons and over undisputed leadership in Big Six basketball race with a hard-fought 36-33 victory over Boise.

It was Boise's first loss of season, dumping them into second place. It was Nampa's 10th win of season. The Bulldogs won 22 in last year.

After three minutes in the third quarter, Boise led 20-20. Nampa pulled to a 31-21 lead after two minutes on a bucket by Herb Dahl, two and a half minutes later, Boise drove in for a setup and the score held a 33-31 lead.

Walter "Rool" Boise guard, calmly dumped two free throws to make it 33-31. Herb Center Jayhawk sank a set shot for Nampa and Bulldogs stalled for the next minute. The game ended 36-33 on a free throw by Stephen's final charity toss as Boise fouled.

New Plans to Tighten Price Reins Drafted

fore Mr. Johnston at this time."

DiSalle was preceded by Wage Stabilizer Cyrus S. Ching, who spent nearly an hour explaining plans to freeze wages at the time price controls are slapped on. Like DiSalle, Ching said the general freeze almost certainly will come before the week's end.

Cites Inequities

Ching said wage stabilization, to be fair, must affect all wage and salary employes, or else inequities will creep in. He also said the board hopes to come up this week with wage policy recommendations that would allow "quite a bit of flexibility for collective bargaining."

Johnston, long-time president of the United States Chamber of Commerce and lately the president of the Motion Picture Production association, is understood to be planning a radio and television broadcast tomorrow evening to tell the public of his plans.

Vinson Gives Oath

He took the oath of office from Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson in a brief ceremony in President Truman's news conference room in the old state department building.

An order was due shortly from Johnston giving autonomous power over prices to DiSalle and over wages to the nine-member wage stabilization board headed by Cyrus S. Ching.

Under Johnston's predecessor, Alan Valentine, who resigned Friday, DiSalle had only limited authority and the wage board had received no delegation of power—it was merely an advisory body to Valentine.

Johnston has told a congressional committee he will have broad supervisory power over not only wages and prices, but also over all economic phases of mobilization including credit control, rents—home financing and general fiscal policy.

Nehru Speech Widens U. N. Split on China

a majority of the U. N. will vote for the American resolution, so many nations may abstain from voting, or vote against the resolution, that the U. N. voice will be weak and, in effect, indecisive.

Nehru blamed much of the present troubles of the world on those opposing Peiping's admission to the U. N.

He said there is a new Asia, and the nations of the world must recognize that as a fact. He attacked, as a major error, the sending of U. N. troops across the 38th parallel of Korea.

Denunciation Expected

Warren R. Austin, chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations, is expected to respond to Nehru with a new denunciation of further appeals to get the red Chinese to agree to a cease-fire in Korea.

In Washington, Secretary Acheson said today every possible effort is being made to preserve unity of the free world in the United Nations crisis.

Situation Delicate

Making it clear he considers the situation to be too delecate, the secretary of state declined at a news conference to comment on:

1. British Prime Minister Attlee's speech in parliament yesterday calling for a wait-and-see policy by the U. N. toward red China, or

2. Today's speech by prime Minister Nehru.

Senior Ball Held For High School

"A Marshmallow World" was the theme of the Twin Falls high school senior ball held last week-end in the high school gymnasium.

The dance was sponsored by the senior class, with Loyal Perry, class president as chairman. Class officers and their partners led the grand march. Officers are Perry, Bob Ticknor, vice president, and Geraldine Crandall, secretary. Senior class sponsors are Helen Minler and Bernice Babcock.

The gymnasium was decorated in the senior class colors with a false ceiling of green and white and balls of cotton hanging from the streamers to represent marshmallows. Phrases of the song, "Marshmallow World," were used throughout the hall and all decorations carried out the theme of the dance. Nathalie Robertson was in charge of decorations.

Bertine Langdon was chairman of the intermission which included a solo by Donna Stordahl, singing "Marshmallow World," and a ballroom dance by Rosalind Luke and Bill Morgan.

Oil Spilled

WENDELL, Jan. 24—A truck, tanker and trailer driven by Rex Murdock, Burley, skidded on the icy highway south of Wendell at 8 a.m. Wednesday and spilled oil all over the highway and borrow pit.

The tanker, loaded with oil, tipped over in the ditch but the trailer, loaded with gasoline, remained upright. The truck hit a tree and a power pole but Murdock escaped with only a bump on his head.

Plan of Blood Bank Is Aired By Lions Club

A discussion on a proposed community blood bank to be operated through the Magic Valley Memorial hospital was held Wednesday noon by members of the Twin Falls Lions club.

Ver Cox, who represented the club at a recent meeting drawing up plans for the bank, said with community support from all service clubs and individuals the bank could be established to cut the prices currently charged for blood transfusions at the hospital.

He said plans call for no charge for the blood, but a $5 to $8 service charge for the transfusion.

Cox said the Red Cross has not been asked to establish a bank here because of "antagonism of local doctors toward the Red Cross."

Some members of the club felt charges now made for blood are "out of line" and efforts should be made to work out a plan for adequate service at a reasonable price. No action was taken pending further discussion on the plan. If started, service clubs would be asked to carry much of the burden in keeping the bank stocked.

William Slimp announced the Burley Lions club would hold its annual charter night banquet and program Friday night. The Twin Falls charter night observance is scheduled for 7 p.m. Feb. 7 at the Turf club.

Gordon Atkinson was appointed team captain to replace Ben Aspey in the club's current membership drive. Aspey was injured Monday in an automobile accident. Earl Dahlstrom was appointed song leader while Jay Merrill attends sessions of the state legislature.

Robert Gilliam reported the club's next Civic Drama guild play presentation will be held at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Twin Falls high school. The play, "Born Yesterday," a comedy, will be given by a cast from New York. Proceeds from the project are used in the Lions eyesight conservation program.

Henry Wills showed two films during the program arranged by A. N. Nelson.

Ex-Judge Ailing

BOISE, Jan. 24 (AP)—In critical condition in a Boise hospital today is former Idaho Supreme Court Justice Alfred Budge, who spent 34 years on the high court.

Budge, who will be 83 in February, was admitted to the hopsital Saturday after a prolonged period of illness.

Arriving Thursday night from Washington, D. C., is Rep. Hamer Budge, one of the retired jurist's sons.

Instructed

LUCERNE, Jan. 24—The legislative committee of the Lucerne Grange has been instructed to contact the Buhl highway department in an attempt to have the condition of the road and the canal bridge one mile west and one-half mile south of the schoolhouse improved.

Insurance Firm Is Named in Suit By City of Burley

BOISE, Jan. 24 (AP)—The city of Burley has named a Baltimore insurance company defendant in a $43,919.99 civil action arising from a judgment against the city for that amount in the death of a worker.

The complaint filed in federal district court named as defendant the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company.

The complaint said a jury verdict of $43,919.99 damages was awarded the family of Rex Bates Hooton, killed while making repairs on the municipally-owned electrical system.

The city said it held a liability policy issued by the Baltimore company and that the company failed to take advantage of several offers to settle the suit by Hooton's heirs for much less than the final judgment. At one time, the city claimed, the suit could have been settled for $8,000.

The complaint contends the insurance company is liable for the full amount of the damages awarded by the jury.

$410 Pay Sought On Sale of Spuds

Judgment for $410.20 is sought in a suit filed Wednesday in probate court by Joseph F. Klimes and Joe Klimes, jr., farming together in Jerome county, against Wilbur E. Jones.

Their complaint states Jones orally agreed to buy all their 1950 No. 1 potatoes in the field for 60 cents per hundred pounds with Jones to pay all expenses.

They state they delivered 154,700 pounds of No. 1 potatoes which would amount to $928.20, and seek collection of the $410.20 allegedly due.

They are represented by Beckwith and Langley.

The westernmost capital in Europe is Lisbon, Portugal.

Soviet People Termed Reds' Worst Enemy

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24 (UP)—Countess Alexandra Tolstoy, youngest daughter of the author who wrote "War and Peace," says the Russian people are "communism's bitterest enemies."

In San Francisco to welcome enore than 1,000 white Russian refugees, the countess said yesterday, "We can enroll an army of the oppressed to fight for us—Russians, Poles and others . . . they can and must be rallied to fight for our cause and for their own freedom."

She said more than 2,000,000 Russians have risked their lives to flee from the Soviet union. "Half of them in the last few years."

Countess Tolstoy, now 66, fled Russia 21 years ago.

Since that time she has helped thousands of refugees escape with aid from the Tolstoy foundation. The foundation, started in 1939 with a $25 donation, has become an international organization with a $350,000 budget for its program.

The white Russians she will greet today came mainly from red army deserters who were not returned to the Soviet union, she said.

"White Russians are the world's best propagandists against communism. They think war is inevitable and they're eager to fight," she said.

Former Members Reinstated in Club

JEROME, Jan. 24—Three members of the Jerome Lions club were reinstated at a meeting Monday night at the Cafe and a member of the Burley club was inducted into the local club.

Bert Wright was program chairman and presented a mixed quartet composed of Mrs. Dale Munk, Mrs. Lewis Diffe, Hyrum Mecham and Art Thompson, who sang several selections Dale Munk showed colored slides of the Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., and told of his experience as one of the scoutmasters who accompanied the Jerome scouts on the trip.

Gene Mildren, San Jose, Calif., former member, was a guest.

Services Held for Mrs. Mary Parke

BURLEY, Jan. 24—Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Malliot Parke, 71, Cassia county pioneer, were held Saturday at the McCulloch chapel with the Rev. Elmer Richardson officiating.

Mary Richardson and Janet Allen sang duets and the Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Priester, Albion, sang a duet.

Burial was made in the Burley cemetery. Pallbearers were Dwight Dunham, Earl Price, Donald Avey, Harvey Hadger, R. B. Orr and Wilford Taylor.

Flowers were carried by Loretta Klingenberg, Ina Price, Nora Palmer, Iva Smythe and Carmelita Nielson.

Toys Shipped

BURLEY, Jan. 24—More than 2,000 toys were shipped from Burley this week by Burley Post of the American Legion as part of the nation-wide "Tide of Toys" project which sends toys from American children to children in allied foreign lands.

Legion and auxiliary members met Friday night to pack the toys. Burley school children, Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls adopted the "Tide of Toys" collection as a project.

Records Were Claimed for Crops Grown on New Tract

This outfit carries a "record" crop of white clover seed grown on the Twin Falls tract, according to identification of the photo taken by C. E. Bisbee, pioneer photographer. The crop averaged 17 bushels per acre for which the price was $21 per bushel. The crop was grown by the Highline Seed farms. Nurses Code Is Proposed

BOISE, Jan. 24 (AP)—A new code for registration and licensing of registered and practical nurses is proposed in a bill introduced in the house of the Idaho legislature.

The measure creates a five-member board of nurse registration and nursing education to replace the present three-member group. All board members would be registered nurses, but two of them would be nominated by practical nurses. A three-member advisory council of practical nurses would be created under the bill.

Registration fees would be increased from $2 to $3 and the initial registration and reciprocity fee would be boosted from $10 to $15.

The measure has the support of the Idaho State Nurse's association and the Idaho Practical Nurses, Inc., a joint statement issued by president of the two organizations said.
